

JAMES MILTON RACER,
Editor and PublisherEntered at the Post-office at Berea, Ky., as second class mail-matter.

THE CITIZEN.

Sixteen Departments.

Eight Pages.

VOL. V.

A Family Paper

BEREA, MADISON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1904.

One dollar a year.

NO. 39

IDEAS.

A bore is a fellow who doesn't know when it is time to change and smoke another brand.

Extract of kindness is a good lotion for strained relations.

When a young man frequents a florist's and the confectioner's it is pretty good evidence that there is something doing.

TAKE NOTICE.

Any subscriber to THE CITIZEN whose subscription is paid up may make one free estimate in our World's Fair Contest for each 25c. sent in, and he will be given credit on his subscription from its present expiration date, whatever that date is, for the amount paid.

FROM THE WIDE WORLD.

A Russian torpedo boat was lost at sea.

The President of Uruguay, South America, is dead.

The Colombia-Panama canal case is on trial in Paris, France.

The Japanese fleet again bombarded the fortifications of Port Arthur.

The Russian Government has prohibited the exportation of horses from Russia.

The price of radium is now $12,600,000 pound, an increase of $4,200,000 a pound in two days.

Martial law has been abolished in Honduras, Central America, order having been restored.

The Russian torpedo flotilla attacked the Japanese fleet off Port Arthur. Each side lost a torpedo boat.

Colombia has finally decided to desist from any further movement to recover the lost territory of Panama.

Decorations were bestowed on the commanders of the Russian warships Varigaga and Korietz for heroic conduct.

President Roosevelt directed the transfer of John Barrett, present Minister to the Argentine Republic, South America, to Minister to the new Republic Panama.

IN OUR OWN COUNTRY.

An Anti-Mormon party is being formed in Utah.

The Government Printing Office is to be equipped with typesetting machines.

Quiet prevails at Springfield, O. Eighteen companies of militia are patrolling the city.

It is stated that Patti has canceled all of her engagements in this country and will go to England immediately.

A storm of unprecedented severity has cut off California from communication with the remainder of the world.

Officers of the Ohio National Guard have received letters asking them to join a revolution to establish the independence of Canada.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives yesterday received six packages of testimony from D. C. Edwards and nine from packages John D. White in their contest against Congressman Hunter.

Admiral Walker is of the opinion that during the building of the Panama canal the "zone" will contain a population of some 70,000 souls, about 40,000 of which will be imported Chinese.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY.

Eastern capitalists are reported to have purchased ten thousand acres of land in Eastern Kentucky.

The Kentucky Senate Friday passed the bill prohibiting the co education of the races in the State, and it is now ready to be signed by the Governor.

The State Senate by a vote of 19 to 9 passed the bill appropriating $20,000 for a statue of the late Gov. Goebel to be placed in the new State House.

There is a probability that friends of Caleb Powers may soon make an appeal to Governor Beckham to commute his death sentence to imprisonment. A petition is now circulating in the eastern part of the State.

Mrs. J. Taylor Ellington is under arrest in Bath county, Ky., charged with poisoning her husband and causing him to commit suicide two weeks ago at Morehead, Ky. The warrant was sworn out by her stepson.

William Newcomb was captured in a barn near Mt. Vernon and lodged in jail. It is alleged that he and Ansel Wilson, who was killed last week at Somerset by an officer, had been stealing horses in Eastern Kentucky for some time.

BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Remarks Against House Bill No. 25 as an Invasion of Personal Liberty and Academic Freedom, by Pres. Wm. G. Frost.

At the close of the Civil War the Bereans were able to carry out their plan and admit "all young people of good moral character." During the next twenty-five years about half of the students were colored, and in these years the institution performed a work of incalculable value to the Commonwealth, for it was in those years that white and black were taking their first lessons in the new order of things. The first colored teachers in nearly every county in the State received more or less education—all they had—at Berea.

When the State was enabled by the gift of the United States Government to establish the Normal and Mechanical School for colored persons at Frankfort there would have been no colored man in the State fit to place at its head if it had not been for Berea College. The first principal was John H. Jackson, of our class of '74, and the present principal is James Hathaway of our class of '84. When we mention the colored graduates of Berea, we mention the men whom Kentucky has chiefly relied for the stability and progress of her colored population—men like Williams of Covington, Russell of Lexington, Bates of Danville, Estill of Mt. Sterling, Bell of Middleboro, Brown of Greensburg. And we have furnished Taylor for the head of the Industrial School at Manassas, Va., Lewis for the colored schools of Cairo, Ill., Bond for a great work in Nashville, and Battle for a new Tuskegee in Mississippi. These men were sought out—Committees of men who had served in the Confederate army came to Berea and took colored men out of our lower classes because they were so anxious to get Berea students to manage the colored public schools. In recent years the growth of the colored Normal Schools at Frankfort and Lexington have diminished the attendance of Negroes, and we have given larger attention to other interests, but this record shows that we have not brought up any undesirable type of colored people at Berea.

And Berea was the first friend of the white people of Eastern Kentucky. From the earliest years our teachers have studied this territory, and we are now famous throughout the world for our educational adaptations for the mountain region. Berea understood the worth and promise of these people, sympathized with their difficulties and has effected a great change in the mountains themselves as well as in the good name which the people of the mountains now bear wherever Berea's influence extends.

Our school has been a universal civilizer. We have taught the people how to have a rotation of crops, and how to gather chestnuts without cutting down the trees! The majority of our students are provided with some form of manual labor so that they acquire at once the habit of industry, skill in a useful trade, and a little money toward their education. Gambling, liquor, and tobacco are prohibited, and actually banished. Over 300 students signed the temperance pledge one night last week. Scores of our young people go out every summer to teach in the public schools, each one carrying a little traveling library and each one expecting to start a Sunday-school. This is the kind of work, gentlemen, which lays the foundations of national greatness deep in the hearts and lives of the people. (808 white, 174 colored students.)

And, this work, because of its skill, because of its success, because of the spirit in which it is administered, has attracted the attention of people who pray for the progress of the world. Longfellow's daughter sends an annual gift; Hamilton W. Mabie and Julian Ralph make long pilgrimages to visit us.

But there is one point—and only one—with which people at a distance, people who have never visited Berea, find fault. We are criticized because it is said we do not make enough distinction between our white and our colored students. This matter has been made a kind of red-rag to inflame people against Berea. In a memorial to the Legislature, Berea and all its donors have been held up to execration as though we were in some way corrupting the morals of the people. Let us investigate calmly and see exactly what Berea College does and teaches on this point. There is certainly a chance for honest differ-that combines beauty and comfort with convenience is one of our well made, easy riding buggies or surreys. It is unequalled for workmanship, durability and comfort, and will give more satisfaction for general family use than any other carriage made. Our prices are as low as can be made consistent with good workmanship and superior quality. The great number of satisfied customers that we have, and without a dissatisfied one, is proof that we can please you. Information gladly furnished.

(Continued on page 8.)

A Family Carriage

Painting, Repairing and Rubber Tires at the lowest prices for first-class work.

KENTUCKY CARRIAGE WORKS,

C. F. HIGGINS, Prop.

Richmond, Ky.

SIMPLE HYPERMETROPIC ASTIGMATISM AND MIXED MYOPIC ASTIGMATISM

Will stop many from school. I can give relief by making glasses that give a twisting refraction. This is the most dangerous of eye troubles. If either of your eyes have become squinted you had better be up and looking after me at once.

I can make glasses to order in three days. Call at my home, or drop me a card, and I will call at your room.

S. McGuire,
Berea, Kentucky

TIME KEEPERS.

Whether you want to buy a worthless watch or buy a high-class timekeeper at the right price. They save you money and are more satisfactory. Ours are guaranteed. Write for catalogue or call.

IRON, GIRARDET & CO.,
104 West Market, Louisville, Ky.SEE OUR FINE LINE OF Arizona Heating and Cook Stoves and Ranges before you buy.

Try our Tinshop. Tin roofing, guttering and spouting and general repair work our specialty. Nothing but first class work.

ARBUCKLE & SIMMONS, Richmond, Ky.

Our line of Furniture, Carpets and Mattings is new and our assortment large. Prices lower than city prices for the same grades.

You may depend upon it, if it's from Crutcher & Evans
It's Good.

M. G. Brown, our undertaker, is one of the best in the profession.

CRUTCHER & EVANS,

Joplin's Old Stand, Richmond, Ky., Day Phone 73; Night Phone 47-66.

For sale by Douglas Stores and others and dealers everywhere.
(CAUTION)
The genuine
hand-made Doubtless value and price on bottom.

$3.00
W.L.DOUGLAS
SHOES $3.50
UNION MADE.

Notice increase of sales in table below:
1895 = 144,162 Pairs.
1896 = 808,182 Pairs.
1897 = 1,259,754 Pairs.
1898 = 1,566,720 Pairs.

Business More Than Doubled in Four Years.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.00 and $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world. We sell $3.00 and $3.50 shoes placed side by side with $5.00 and $6.00 shoes of other makers, are found to be just as good. They will outwear two pairs of ordinary $3.00 shoes.

Made of the best leather, including Patent Corona Kid, Coroma Calf, and National Kangaroo. Fast Color Eyelets and Black Heels used. Foot Wear $6.00 and $8.00. "Elder Line" cannot be equalled at any price. Shoes by mail $2.00 extra. Shipping free. W. L. Douglas, Brookton, Mass.

For sale by
R. R. COYLE, Berea

Bring your watch, clock and jewelry repair work to

W. B. ROBE & CO.
(Shop over post-office)

Not too Soon

Select Dry Goods,
Notions and Ladies' Furnishings at the New Store.

Our stock is composed of exclusive patterns in Laces and Embroideries, special designs in Ladies' Collars, novelties in Dry Goods, etc.

Our plan will be, not to keep a large stock, poorly selected, but a select stock constantly renewed by all the new styles and designs as fast as they come out.

Come in and see us.

Mrs. Bettie Mason,
Main Street, Berea, Ky.

Chasteen & Tankersley,

Opposite Bucknell & Early

TENDER BEEF AND FRESH PORK

Open every day from 4 o'clock a.m. to 9 o'clock p.m. Meat delivered anywhere at anytime.

Buy your Engagement and Wedding Rings

From the largest and best stock of guaranteed gold-filled and solid gold jewelry shown in Berea. Prices right. Call and see our line of goods.

A. J. THOMPSON,

Opposite Burdette's Mill, Berea, Ky.

Prices low. All work guaranteed. We have the best outfit in this end of Madison county.

Hammar Brand Paint

Sold and guaranteed by the East End Drug Co.

Main Street, Berea, Ky.

STEVENS

There are many uses for a Shotgun or Rifle, but be sure to have a gun of reliable make. The "Stevens" has been in the market since 1864 and guaranteed for quality.

We manufacture a complete line of

Rifles, Pistols, & Shotguns

Ask your dealer for the "Stevens." There is no substitute. If you cannot do without it, if interested, write direct, express prepaid, upon receipt of airmail.

Try this new pistol of ours. It will keep you company until you solve it, and furnishes lots of amusement. Send on receipt of two-cent stamp.

J. STEVENS ARMS & TOOL CO.,
P. O. Box 299,
Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Subscribe for The Citizen.

THE FIRST SNOW.

The gray clouds blow
Young, white, fast,
Snow, snow, snow.
Fly, fly, fast,

The trees,
With white arms,
Stand fast,
With the storm.

The wood, the valle,
The frozen hills crest,
The hills, the dells,
In white are dressed.

With falling track
The robins foods
By art, and chance
The gauntlet was da.

Where's the flower,
The waving grass,
The daffodil rose,
Glorified the plain?

The wind dies low,
The night comes still,
A world of snow
Spread white and chit.

But all's not dead—
You cabin glow
Reveals a world
Unchilled by snow.

There comfort reigns,
There's life and mirth;
Gray winter fans
A glowing bourn.

—Charles G. Miley, in Chicago Record-Herald.

THE MISSISSIPPI BUBBLE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Author of "The Story of the Cowboy,"
"The Girl at the Halfway House," Etc.

(Copyright, 1884, by Emerson Hough.)

CHAPTER XV.—CONTINUED.

"What!" cried a voice. "You, Lady Catharine? Why, how is this?"

It was the voice of Will Law, whom she knew, but who certainly was not the one who had brought her brother. The lady Catharine accepted this last situation as one no longer able to reason. She sank down in the carriage seat, shivering.

"It's all well?" asked Will Law, eagerly.

"He is safe," said Lady Catharine Knollys. "It is done, it is finished."

"What does this mean?" exclaimed Will.

"His carriage—there it is. It goes to the ship—to the Pool. He and Mary Connynge are only just ahead of us. You may hear the wheels. Do you not hear them?" She spoke with leaden voice, and her head sank heavily.

"What? My brother—Mary Connynge—in that carriage—what can you mean? My God! Lady Catharine, tell me, what do you mean?"

"I do not know," said Catharine Knollys. All things now seemed very far away from her. Her head sank gently forward, and she heard not the words of the man who frantically sought to awaken her to speech.

From the prison to London Pool was a journey of some distance across the streets of London. Will Law called out to the driver with savagery in his voice. He shouted, cursed, implored, promised, and betimes held one hand under the soft, heavy tresses of the head now sunk so bumbly forward.

The mad ride ended at the quay on Thames side, where the shadows of the tall buildings lay rank and thick upon the earth, where tarry smells and evil odors filled the heavy air, penetrated none the less by the savor of the keen salt air. More than one giant form was outlined in the broad stream; vessels tall and ghost-like in the gloom, shadowy, suggestive, bearing imprint and promise of far lands across the sea.

"To the brigantine beyond!" cried Will Law to the wherryman who came up. "We want Capt. McMasters, of the Polly Perkins. For God's sake, quick! There's that afoot must be caught up within the moment, do you hear?"

The wherryman touched his cap and quickly made ready his boat. Will Law, understanding naught of this swift call of events, and not daring to leave Lady Catharine behind him at the carriage, made down the stairway, half carrying the drooping figure which now leaned weakly upon his shoulder.

"Pull now, man! Pull as you never did before!" cried he, and the wherryman bent hard to his oars.

Yet great as was the haste of those who put forth into the foggy Thames, it was more than equalled by that of one who appeared upon the dock, even as the creak of the oars grew fainter in the gloom. There came the rattle of wheels upon the quay, and the sound of a driver lashing his horses. A carriage rolled up, and there sprang from the box a muffled figure which resolved itself into the very embodiment of haste.

"Hold the horses, man!" he cried to the nearest bystander, and sprang swiftly to the head of the stairs, where a loiterer or two stood idly gazing out into the mist which overhung the water.

"Saw you aught of a man," he demanded hastily, "a man and a woman, a tall young woman—you could not mistake her?" "Twas the Polly Greenway they should have found. Tell me, for God's sake, has any boat put out from this stair?"

"Why, sir," replied one of the wherrymen who stood near by, pipe in mouth and hand in pocket, "since you mention it, there was a boat started but this instant for midstream. They sought McMasters' brigantine, the Polly Perkins, that lies waiting for the tide. 'Twas, as you say, a young centaur, and with him was a young woman. I misdoubt the lady was ill."

"The 'tis a boat!" cried the newcomer. "My sovereign, five sovereigns in sovereigns, a hundred—but that ship must not weigh anchor until I board her to you hear!"

The ring of the imperative voice, and moreover the ring of good English coin, set all the dock astir. Straightway there came up another wherry with two lusty fellows, who laid her at the stair where stood the impudent stranger.

"Hurry, men!" he cried. "The life and death—it's more than life and death!"

And such fortune attended Sir Arthur Pendrake that Person he went over the side of the Polly Perkins, even as the gray dawn began to break over the narrow Thames, and even as the anchor-song of the crew struck up.

CHAPTER XVI.

WITNESS.

A few hours later a coppery sun slowly dispersed the morning mist above the Thames. The same sun warmed the court yards of the London jail, which lately had confined John Law, convicted of the murder of Beau Wilson, gentleman. It was discovered that the said John Law had in some superhuman fashion, climbed the split walls of the inner yard. The jailer pointed out the very spot where this act had been done. It was not so plain how he had passed the outer gates of the prison, yet those were not wanting who said that he had overpowered the turnkey at the gate taken from him his keys, and so forced his way out into London city.

Far and wide went forth the proclamation of reward for the apprehension of this escaped convict.

Yet though the authorities of the law made full search in London, and indeed in other of the principal cities of England, they got no word of the escaped prisoner.

The clouded dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless, looked without joy upon the dawn, with

the clodden dawn which broke over the Thames below the Peal might have told its own story. There sat upon the deck of the good ship Polly Greenway, outbound from Thames' mouth, this same John Law. He regarded idly the busy scenes of the shipping about him. His gaze, dull and listless,

Eastern Kentucky News

No correspondence published unless signed in full by the writer. The name is not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Write plainly.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

BOONE.

March 8.—Rev. J. W. Lambert and Henry Hamblen, Jr., went to Cincinnati Tuesday on business.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Coyle visited Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lambert Sunday.—John Hamblen and family moved from Berea to Boone's Gap last week.—Misses Amanda and Sallie Weaver visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eden Wren, last Saturday and Sunday.—Bethel Wren, who has been very sick for several days, is some better.—Tom Wren and family, of Snider Switch, visited friends here Sunday.—Rev. J. W. Lambert went to Clear Creek Monday to officiate at the marriage of Miss Jennie Rowlette, of that place, to Mr. John Simpson, of Big Hill. They have our best wishes.—Mrs. Margaret Simms, of Snider Switch, visited Mrs. J. W. Lambert last week.—Millard, the small child of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Poynter, has been very sick for the last few days.—Mrs. Luc Singleton, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned to her home at Rockford.—Mary Singleton is visiting friends at Fall Creek this week.

LIVINGSTON.

March 10.—Clell Mullins was in Berea Monday.—Jas. Cooper, R. C. Wade, and W. B. Sigmon were in Mt. Vernon Monday.—W. H. Soden, the assistant freight agent, is able to work again.—John Quinn and Miss Talitha Mullins were married last Thursday.—Mrs. Julian Lear died with small-pox last week. It is reported that there are several cases in this county.—W. B. Sigmon bought of R. C. Wade one store house and lot for $400.—David Griffin was in Stanford last Friday.—Mrs. Emily Mullins is visiting relatives here this week.

March 15.—J. W. Baker visited in Mt. Vernon Sunday.—David Owens died Friday morning after a brief illness with pneumonia. His wife and two of his boys are in a very bad condition with pneumonia.—Supt. G. M. Ballard was here repairing his property Friday.—There was a wreck on the Louisville and Nashville railroad near Maretburg Sunday night, but no one was hurt.—Sam Mullins has the mumps.—Emit Quinn and wife visited friends at Mullins' Station Sunday.—A. N. Bentley has completed a fence around his yard, which adds greatly to the property both in beauty and value.

ROCKFORD.

Meers, J. L. and Casper Martin visited friends in Madison county Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stephens visited friends on Clear Creek last week.—Miss Virgie R. Martin is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bettie Ogg, in Madison county this week.—J. E. Hammond and wife visited friends near Berea Sunday and Monday.—Robert Shearer left for Illinois on the 14.—Died March the 13th, Mrs. Sarah A. Rector, aged about 77 years.

DISPUTANTA.

March 15.—Died on the 10th James Loman, and he leaves a wife and live children to mourn his loss.—J. W. Anglin and family have moved back from Hamilton, O.—Miss Lucy Alman, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Shearer, has returned home.—Mrs. Ellen Alman and Miss Wilmouth Owens were over from Orlando on business this week.—Robt. Shearer will start for Fairland, Ill., this week.—Rev. W. J. Chasteen, the newly called pastor at Clear Creek, preached an interesting sermon Sunday.—Squire G. V. Owens was called to Clifton last week to hold an inquest over the body of Robt. Reed, who was found dead at his barn. The hogs had almost eaten him up.—J. C. Sharp will move back to Berea this week.

SCAFFOLD CANE.

March 14.—James Howard and family were visiting friends in Madison County, Sunday.—Sunday school is progressing nicely at Dog Walk—Isaac Wilt visited friends on Dog Walk, Sunday. He is planning to attend the World's Fair at St. Louis.—H. E. Northern is having lumber sawed to enlarge his house for an Orphan's Home.—Miss Vergil Martin visited friends in Madison county last week.—Mrs. Mary Reynolds and Miss Addie Abrams visited Misses Sallie and Delcie Shearer Sunday.—Dalton Waddle visited Jas. Daugherty Sunday.—Colonel Baker, who has been in Indiana for the past year, is home again.—J. S. Waddle is very sick with grip.—Rollie Davis and wife visited home folks Friday.—Daddy Todd was in Madison county Sunday.—Robert Shearer of this place has gone to Arcola, Illinois, for a year.

OWSLEY COUNTY.

TRAVELER'S REST.

Farmers in this vicinity are getting ready to make a crop.—Mr. Lee Congleton got several of his logs to the Kentucky River during the recent tide in Sturgeon creek.—Stephen Crandell of Stanton is visiting his many friends at this place.—J. D. Creech has closed his school at Rowland's Chapel. He taught a good school there and made many friends in that district.—J. D. Creech and P. M. Frye are the examiners in Owsley county this year.

MADISON COUNTY.

DREYFUS.

Mar. 12.—Miss Cyana Young of Redlick has been visiting friends here this week.—Miss Hatte and Jessie Young of Kingston attended church at this place Sunday.—Speed Mc Keehan and wife were the guests of J. C. Powell and family Sunday.—J. C. Powell made a business trip to Livingston last week.—Rev Jas Young and wife were the guests of J. K. Sandlin and family Sunday.—Miss Sallie Young has returned from Jackson, Breathitt county, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lula Banks.—W. P. Sandlin is visiting his father, Lewis Sandlin, in Fayette county this week.—Died on the third little Uncle Sandlin; age seven months. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all.

WALLACETON.

March 14.—Miss Katie Wylie has been very sick the past week.—Rev. Sturgill is holding a series of meetings at the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. Young—Binaum Pitts and Bige Estridge will start to Mansfield, Ill., the first of this week.—Charlie Rogers has rented his farm out to Rev. Lunsford, and moved to the city of Wallacetton and retired from business.—Oscar Haftt who has been in Cleveland for twenty months working in a stove foundry, came home last Wednesday for a two months visit with his parents.—Miss Addie Baker of Berea was the guest of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Wallace last week.—M. J. Gabbard is visiting G. B. Gabbard this week.—Miss Mary Todd, who has been visiting Miss Mattie Keen at Mansfield, Ill., for a month, returned last week, reporting a nice time.—Eb Brockman was thrown from a horse Tuesday, and sprained his ankle—Oscar Gabbard and R. H. Soper and wife will start for Tuscola, Ill., Saturday—Misses Sarah and Alice Lawson were the guest of Misses Sallie and Lucy Cade Sunday night.

MASON COUNTY.

MAYSVILLE.

Mar. 15.—Mrs. Amanda Breckenridge is quite ill at her home on Fifth St.—William Butler and Mrs. Fannie Jackson were recently married at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Strawder on Lawrence Creek.—Mrs. Josephine Brady and her daughter Nannie attended the Annual M. E. Conference during the past week.—Rev. E. Combs of Grave Alley is quite ill with rheumatism.—Fourteen converts were immersed in the Ohio river at the foot of Limestone street Sunday morning. There were twenty-six accessions to the Bethel church during the revival.—Miss Mayme Bell, teacher of Murphysville school, spent Sunday at her home in this city.—Miss Odessa Adams, formerly of this city, died in Ontario recently.—The young men of Maysville have organized a club known as the Y. M. S. S. club. The following are the officers: Wm. Brown, President; Arthur Whaley, Secretary, and Wm. Hintou, Treasurer.

TILE INDUSTRY AT WACO.

Madison county is justly proud of her different industries, and none are meeting with more success than the tiling factory at Waco. One of the largest owners, and in fact the promoter of this industry, is Hon. C. L. Searey. Last week a shipment of clay was made to St. Louis to be used in building the arch for the Kentucky building. This arch will be covered with some of the clay shingles which are receiving so much attention. Besides this Mr. Searey will ship a lot of bricks, tile, clay shingles, jugs and other pottery to be exhibited at the Fair. Lexington capitalists are interested in this enterprise, and they propose to make it one of the first concerns of the country. An order was recently received by the company from New York, for clay to be used in making models and works of arts by Mr. Barnhart. We are proud that this industry is meeting with such success and we will be glad to see its continued growth.—Richmond Clipper.

OPENING OF SPRING TERM.

The Spring Term opened yesterday. Several improvements have been made for the transaction of business so that the throngs of students were duly registered and assigned to classes with less trouble than ever. A considerable number of new students appeared, as well as students of former years who return after a long interval of teaching. Among the new students we notice L. L. Shadow one of the best teachers of Pulaski county; Mr. Creed Whisman of Tenant; C. B. Woodard of Nelsonville O.; J. W. Kinser of Hansford, Ky.; J. A. Mills of Whitesville; Margaret and Pattie Moyers of Clover Bottom Mrs. Eva Godehy, Betheridge, Ky.; Martha Lake is back from Evergreen, and Eva Click is back from Kerby Knob.

"Anona" is the hit of the season. Hear it at the Band Concert March 22.

Kentucky Patents.

Granted this week: Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C.:—S. E. Foreman, Washington, D. C.;—R. T. Lightfoot, Paducah, water-filter; S. W. Ludlow, Covington, non-refillable bottle; B. T. Milliken, Epperson, bed or cushion; W. Shannon, Louisville, bed-bottom.

For copy of any of above patents send ten cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

TAKE NOTICE.

Any subscriber to THE CITIZEN whose subscription is paid up may make one free estimate in our World's Fair Contest for each 25c sent in, and he will be given credit on his subscription from its present expiration date, whatever that date is, for the amount paid.

Like All of the Others.

"We find great hopes that John would do something original, but he has sadly disappointed us."

"What has happened now?"

"He has invented a flying machine."

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cure have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by S. E. Welch, Jr.

WOOD FOR BEREAL COLLEGE.

Contracts for the supply of wood for Bereal College for the coming year are now being assigned by the Treasurer. $1.75 per cord will be paid for sound body wood delivered at the College buildings. Persons wishing to furnish wood should see the Treasurer and secure a contract before it is all assigned.

A Slight Reservation.

"So Jenkins lost everything when he failed?"

"Yes. All was lost but honor and what he had in his wife's name."

Misses One Trial.
True, Moses was the meekest man
Perhaps that ever was,
But then it never was his lot
To drop a nickel in the slot
And get the busy buzz,

Warning.

When you ask a druggist for Paracamp, be sure you get it. There is nothing just as good. Paracamp is guaranteed to cure Piles, Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Salt rheum, etc. Remember the name—Paracamp—25 cents.

FOR SALE

FARM AND TIMBER LAND.

130 Acres.

10 acres cultivated. Good young fruit bearing peach orchard, containing about 100 trees.

40 acres in light timber, good for firewood, etc. Limestone spring water sufficient for two or three families all the year. Small cottage and barn.

50 acres commercial timber, estimated to produce about 60 cords of timber and 4000 railroad crossties, or 200,000 feet lumber.

All tracts joining so as to make one complete farm.

LOCATED on "Mt. Zion," 6 miles southeast of Paolca Railroad Station, and 7 miles southwest of Irvine, Estill county, Ky.

For examination, call on J. R. Smith on the farm.

For price and deed call on, or address

W. D. Smith,
Box 204. Berea, Ky.

SHE MUST HAVE BEEN A KENTUCKIAN.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
To the World's Fair at St. Louis, sir," she said.

"Over what line will you travel, my dear?" said he;

"Over the 'Henderson Route,' of course," said she.

"Why over that road do you go?" he said;

"For Free Reclining Chair Cars, sir," she said.

"And where flies this Palace of Travel?" said he;

"From Kentucky—through Evansville—to St. Louis," she said.

You seem to be pleased with that line," he said;

"They are 'Good Service' originators, sir," she said.

"In traveling another route—" (is as good,) said he;

"You'll have to 'show me,' kind sir," said she.

All lines look alike to me," he said;

"I can only see one—The Henderson," she said.

I need me a helpmate, my dear," said he;

"Won't you travel to St. Louis, my wife, with me?"

"I doubt not a helpmate you need," said she;

"But the 'Henderson Route' comfort line," for me."

"Then, will you not come my way?" he said;

"No, I'm for the 'Henderson' any day," she said.

"Is the choice of routes worth more than my love?" said he;

"No" but the 'choice of routes is, dear sir," said she.

"How, then, can I wed you, fair maid?" he said;

"(Hie the 'Henderson Route' habbit line)," she said.

MORAL TO MEN.

This lady was undoubtedly accustomed to the best, and would have no other—Therefore—if you would wedded and happy be, "Get the Henderson Route Habit."

"It is a good habit to acquire.

Working Overtime.

Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache and all Stomach, Liver and Bowel Troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c at East End Drug Co., Berea, Ky.

Blame

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitches, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

"My son, Art, when in his 15th year, became subject to attacks of fits so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and monthly treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. WILSON, Deputy Co. Clerk, Dallas Co., Mo.

FREE Write us and we will mail you a Free Trial Package of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. Also Symptom Blank for our Specialist to diagnose your case and tell you what is wrong and how to right it. Absolutely Free.

Address: DR. MILES' MEDICAL LABORATORIES, ELKHART, IND.

J. J. AZBILL'S

is the place to get your Blacksmithing done. We have the tools and the skill.

Horseshoeing 50c.

We are headquarters for good work and low prices. Everybody come. BIG HILL PIKE; 1 MILE EAST BREA.

OUR WORLD'S FAIR CONTEST.

$13,000

IN 496 CASH PRIZES.

The Citizen

AN INDEPENDENT FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

Published every Thursday at Berea, Ky.

JAMES M. RACER,
Editor and Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One year	$1.00
Six months50
Three months25

Send money by Post office Money Order, Express Money Order, Check, Draft, Registered Letter or one or two cent stamps.

The date after your name shows to what day your subscription is paid. It is not renewed within three weeks after sending us money, unless otherwise specified.

Subscribers wishing THE CITIZEN stopped must notify us at the expiration of their subscription, paying all arrears, otherwise we shall renew it, and it will continue.

Notify us at once of any change in your address, giving both old and new addresses.

Missing Numbers due to wrappers coming off in the mail, or otherwise, will gladly be supplied if we are notified.

Agents Wanted in every locality. Write for terms. Anyone sending us four new year subscriptions will receive THE CITIZEN free for one year.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY.

THE OLD SPEEDWELL

Butcher Shop,

MEATS, Tender and Juicy.
The Famous Jellico COAL, at wholesale or retail.

BOARDING by the week, day or meal.

R. D. MASSIE, Prop.

Main Street, Berea, Ky.

PHONE No. 20.

GROCERIES, CANDIES,
FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Lunch counter.

Agent for Langdon Bread.

Your patronage is solicited.

T. R. PETTUS,

Dalton Bldg. Berea, Ky.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL.

New Furnishings in every room. All service first-class. Popular prices. Merchant Tailoring shop in connection.

CHARLES JACOBS, Prop.
Second Street, phone 100. Richmond, Ky.

FRESH BALTIMORE OYSTERS

in Bulk or in Cans.

CELERIY, CRANBERRIES, ETC.

Always on hand at

TELEPHONE JOE'S No. 58.

Joe's Corner, Richmond, Ky.

DR. M. E. JONES

Dentist

Office—Over Printing office

Berea, Ky.

Office Days—Wednesday to end of the week.

A. J. THOMSON,

GROCERIES AND NOTIONS

Fruits and vegetables
a specialty

OPPOSITE BURDETTE'S MILL.

Berea, Ky.

Miller House

Newly fitted up. Meals and Board and Lodging at popular prices. Next door to Joe's.

R. G. Engle, Prop.

Main St. Richmond, Ky.

Williams

better prepared than ever to do your WATCH CLOCK, GUN and GENERAL REPAIRING promptly. Cleaning and Pressing a specialty. Work guaranteed.

W. A. Williams,

Main Street Berea, Ky.

The Citizen

$1 a year. 6 mos. 50c.

A CONFESSION.

I've been down to the city, an' I've seen the "electric lights," The twenty-story buildin's an' the other stunnin' sights; I've seen the trolley cars a-rushin' madly down the street, An' all the place a-lookin' like a fairy land complete. But I'd rather see the big trees that's a-growin' up to home, An' watch the stars a-twinklin' in the blue an' lotty dome; An' I'd rather hear the wind that goes a-singin' past the door, Than the noise of the city, with its bustle an' its roar. I reckon I'm peculiar an' my tastes is kind o' low; But what's the use denyin' things that certainly is so? I went up to a concert, an' I heard the music there; I sounded like angelic harps a-floatin' through the air. Yet here is the glory an' the gladness an' excitement of it all. If I stopped to think a minute, I was homesick jes' the same; An' I couldn't help confessin', though it seems a curious thing, That I'd rather hear a robin sweetly pipin' in the spring. —Washington Star.

A Quiet Summer

By JULIA TRUITT BISHOP

(Copyright, 1903, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

WE ARE fairly settled now, and I will send you a few lines, tired as I am. Mamie is delighted with the little old sleepy town, and I am delighted that we are out in the country, and don't live in the town, and that we have a pony and buggy and can drive to town when we like, and that we don't have to go there unless we really wish to go. Personally, I would be willing not to see a town again in a hundred years. I want to sit under the pine trees over on that hill, or lie in the hammock and read, and let the June sunshine soak in, all summer long.

I have just read that last line over. It sounds poetical, but it won't be June sunshine after to-day. However, you know what I mean.

In other words, I am going to take the rest cure, Nell, and when you see your little sister again you won't know her. Think of it—not a glimpse of pen and ink or of that blessed typewriter, except the few lines I am going to write you. No more of the coldness and indifference of the city—not even a thought of the faithlessness of those whom I trusted. I am going to live with nature, and try to grow strong and well, and forget that I ever had a sorrow.

Oh, by the way, I received a letter from Mr. Grosvenor this morning. He tries to explain that affair about the Ferrand girl at the Willoughby reception last week. I wonder if he thinks I care? Really, the letter made me laugh. It certainly is absurd for him to think that it matters in the least to me what he does.

This place is too delicious for letter writing. The hammock calls me. —CATHIE.

June 30. Mr. John Grosvenor.

Dear Friend—I have had no letter from you in days and days, and even if I did ask you not to write, it shows that you were very willing to drop the correspondence. You are developing your acquaintance with the pretty Ferrand girl, I suppose. That is the way with men—they are all alike. I wouldn't have dreamed a few months ago that you would leave me agonizing out here in this wretched place, and not even take time to write an occasional letter. When I see people I hear gossip and scandal, and when I don't see people I sit in the hammock and pity myself for hours at a time.

The latest scandal is about me. One of those good-natured friends Byron talks about came and told me. It seems that I was engaged to a really lovely man in the city, but I was so naughty and indulgent and so set up—though goodness knows what I had to be set up about—that he broke the engagement and won't mate friends, though I have written him letter after letter begging and imploring him to be reasonable.

How can you be so hard-hearted, lovely man?

KATHIE.

July 5. Dear Nellie:

One of our neighbors came to see us yesterday. She is a Mrs. Ford, and she told us that Mrs. Jennings who lives on the other side of our place, is a well-meaning woman, but very impudent in her goings-on with her husband's nephew, and there isn't anything in the world wrong about her, but she ought to be more careful, because people will talk—indeed, Mrs. Ford herself had heard them talking.

As Mrs. Ford was going away Mrs. Jennings "dropped by" on her way from town and they met in the gate and greeted one another as sisters should. Mrs. Jennings told us afterwards that Mrs. Ford was one of the best-hearted women she had ever known, but of all the housekeepers—and that the whole family were shiftless, and if it hadn't been for the vegetables she sent them the year round she believed in her soul they'd starve.

You know I like this kind of life. It does seem so soothing and restful, just to lie up here and have nothing to do but to hear these people talk in this airy manner about one another.

I have had another letter from Mr. Grosvenor. Did you ever hear of anyone being so persistent? It seems difficult to convince him that I don't care to know him any longer. If he could only understand my complete indifference I am sure he would not write again.

CATHIE.

July 5. Mr. John Grosvenor.

Dear Mr. Grosvenor—I don't know why you should dwell upon the little incident at the reception, when I have told you that I had entirely forgotten it. Surely, you had a perfect right to take Miss Ferrand out to supper, even if her escort had not been called away and left her in your care, as you continue to assert. She is a very beautiful girl, as every one knows. Please accept my compliments on your evident good taste. There will be no need for me to write again, so I will say goodbye. With best wishes.

C. L. TRAYNOR.

July 11. Dear Nellie:

At least 16 women from town have driven out here to see us, and the things I have learned! I can't tell you either side by the newspaper.

Something Else Necessary.

A St. Petersburg paper says: "Woeto Japan!" It is almost certain, however, says the Chicago Record-Herald, that this war isn't going to be won for either side by the newspaper.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for March 20, 1903—Jesus Feeds
the Five Thousand.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Matt. 14: 13-21)

13 When Jesus heard of it, He departed alone by ship into a desert place apart; and when the people heard of it, they followed Him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and He healed their sick.

15 And when it was evening, His disciples came to Him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past, and the multitude are with Thee, and we have not bread.

16 And He said unto them, Give ye to them also; for this is My Father's will.

17 And they said unto Him, We have here but five loaves and two fishes.

18 And He said, Bring them hither to Me.

19 And He commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to Heaven, He blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to the Disciples, and the Disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did eat, and were filled, and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 And straightway Jesus constrained His disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

23 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

24 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

25 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

26 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

27 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

28 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

29 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

30 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

31 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

32 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

33 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

34 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

35 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

36 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

37 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

38 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

39 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

40 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

41 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

42 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

43 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

44 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

45 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

46 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

47 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

48 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

49 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

50 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

51 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

52 And Jesus spake unto His Disciples.

53 And He said unto them, Come ye after Me, and learn of Me; for I am the bread of life.

54 And straightway Jesus constrained His Disciples to get into a ship, and to go before Him unto the other side, while He dismissed the multitude away.

55 And when He had sent the multitude away, He went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, He was there alone.

STATE NEWS PICK-UPS

KENTUCKY GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

There Will Be No School Book Legislation at This Session.

Frankfort, March 9.—Senate.—The senate Tuesday by a vote of 19 to 9 passed the Hyron bill making an appropriation of $20,000 to build a monument to Gov. Gobell on the statehouse square in Frankfort. The bill to increase the per capita of the state reform school from $100 to $110 passed. The bill appropriating $12,000 for a deficit in the funds of the reform school passed, as did the bill appropriating $20,000 for new buildings at the same school. A resolution was adopted directing the state librarian to seal copies of the statutes and code used by the legislative committees this session to the legislators who desire them.

House.—Mr. Thompson, of Bourbon, called from the clerk's desk, and the house by unanimous vote passed a resolution urging the Kentucky delegation in congress to vote for the national pure seed bill. Mr. Weathers of the criminal law committee, reported, by unanimous consent, the senate bill, 188, and it was advanced in the orders. The bill increases the penalty for safe-blowing, bank robbery. The committee on rules called up and passed house bill 245, providing penalties for driving or flourishing a deadly weapon within a passenger coach. The bill was adopted. The Cochran bill to provide for establishing graded schools in common school districts, bordering on county lines, passed. House bill 202, to prohibit fraudulent certification of land titles, was adopted.

Frankfort, March 10.—Senate.—There will be no more school book legislation at this session. At least the senate said as much by a decided vote Wednesday, when it refused to take up Senator Campbell's bill, which proposed to amend the Canfield bill, which is now a law, by doing away with the right of the county boards to vote on book adoption and placing the whole matter in the hands of a state board composed of the attorney general, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and the presidents of Kentucky university and A. and M. college. The committee on education reported favorably the house bill aimed at Berea college and the education of the white and black races. Senator Spence called up the bill providing for a policeman and fireman pension law for second-class cities, and it passed without objection.

House.—Bills passed: Providing that when a railroad company organizes under the laws of this state wishes to retire its preferred stock, it shall do so by buying up the stock at the market price instead of at par, as the present law provides; appropriating $40,000 for completing the cellhouse at Eddyville, and appropriating $26,000 for improvements at the Frankfort prison. Senate bill 192, providing that state savings funds may be deposited in national banks as well as state banks, was reported adversely by the committee on Kentucky statutes and was killed. House bill No. 505, by Mr. Newcomb, was passed. It provides for the examination of county school superintendents in January and February instead of July and August, in order that they may be examined before their nomination.

Frankfort, March 11.—Senate.—The house bill providing that missing copies of Kentucky reports in the circuit, county and federal clerks' offices be furnished and paid for by the state received 18 votes to 10 against it, and was declared passed. It was asserted that this bill will cost the state $20,000 if not vetoed by the governor. The house bill appropriating $22,000 for improvements at the deaf and dumb institute at Danville passed. House bill No. 246, to prohibit the killing of rabbits and squirrels with the gun from September 15 to November 15 each year, intended to protect quail from hunters who go out to kill rabbits and instead kill birds before the open season begins, passed, 18 to 13. Habits and squirrels may be snared or caught with dogs during that period, however. The bill to fix a special penalty for selling or buying registration certificates was postponed till Monday, which it was.

House.—Bills passed: Taking the control of the printing for the appellate court reports from the state printing board and placing it in the hands of the judges of the court of appeals, with power to make contracts and revoke any contracts where its provisions have been violated; making adultery the only ground for divorce; that the state shall replace copies of the Kentucky Reports and certain other books belonging to any county, when said books are destroyed by fire; removing the license tax from mineral water. Bill No. 193, which proposed to raise the salaries of the state prison guards from $65 to $75 a month, was called up. Mr. Oliver offered an amendment, raising the salary of the deputy warden from $1,200 to $1,500 a year. This was defeated.

How to Identify Him.
Owensboro, Ky., March 11.—To identify me, telegraph No. 53,734, Boston, Mass. They will care for me. This is the remarkable entry found in the notebook of a man who had lived under the name of George L. Gray, and who died in the city hospital Thursday morning.

Lumbermen Are Jubilant.
Barbourville, Ky., March 11.—Lumber men in the mountains are jubilant over the prospects of getting out so many logs. The recent rains have caused a good tide in all the mountain streams, and all the logs along the water courses will be set adrift.

Dr. Traylor Drops Dead.
Lancaster, Ky., March 11.—Dr. G. A. Traylor, of Bryantsville, this county, dropped dead while visiting a patient. He was about 70 years of age and the oldest physician in the county. He was never married.

KENTUCKY MINE WORKERS.

The Western District Met in Louisville and Elected Officers.

Louisville, Ky., March 9.—The United Mine Workers of the Western Kentucky district Tuesday elected the following officers:

President, C. W. Wells, Central City; vice president, W. E. Hicks; secretary and treasurer, G. D. Wood.

The convention, which held its first session Tuesday, is expected to remain in session until next Tuesday, when a joint convention with the operators of the same district will begin. The most important matters before the convention are the wage scale for 1904, to be submitted to the operators next week, and the consideration of plans for unionizing the Hopkins fields.

An officer of the organization stated Tuesday that he was practically assured of an increase in the present wage scale to $2½ cents a ton for mining and $2 to $2½ a day for general labor would be demanded of the operators. President Wells' report shows surplus of $10,000 in the treasury.

THE OFFICERS SURRENDERED.

They Killed the Man Whom They Were Seeking to Arrest.

Somerset, Ky., March 10.—W. H. Lair, policeman of Huntington, who was pursuing Auseil Wilson, of this county, for the purpose of arresting him, shot and killed Wilson about two miles west of here Wednesday morning. Wilson was charged with having stolen two miles in Lincoln county.

Policeman Lair and Wm. Huston, mounted on horses, were giving chase to Wilson, and came up on him on Fishing creek, about two miles from Somerset. Wilson attempted to escape, and was shot twice by Officer Lair, the shots proving fatal.

The officers of Lincoln county came to this place and surrendered to the officers here, telling them what had occurred. They were placed in the custody of the sheriff, and the coroner is now gone to the scene of the killing.

WERE WITNESSES.

Members of Printing Board Before the Investigating Committee.

Frankfort, Ky., March 9.—The committee investigating the public printing had before it Tuesday as witnesses Gov. Beckham, Secretary of State McChesney and Auditor Hager, of the printing board, which allowed the $28,000 account of a Louisville printing house, which is the item in dispute. They testified that they had no interest in the persons or its contract and that they believed the account was reasonable, but not being experts could not say whether this was true or not.

Gov. Beckham asked to be allowed to make a statement regarding a member of the senate, but the committee ruled that evidence relating to that matter could not properly be heard by this committee.

Man Shot By a Woman.

Owingsville, Ky., March 11.—On Indian creek, Menifee county, James Patrick, it is alleged, was perhaps fatally shot by Mrs. Taylor Ingram. Patrick entered her home and, it is claimed, made improper proposals. He left but later returned and attempted to enter the house, when, it is claimed, Mrs. Ingram fired on him with a shotgun, the charge taking effect in his side and thigh. Mrs. Ingram was not arrested.

Aged Woman Beheaded.

Louisville, Ky., March 9.—Sarah Miller, 70, of 1308 Seventh street, perished death to the insane asylum, Tuesday evening she laid her head on the Louisville & Nashville railroad track at the Seventh street crossing and a moment later a passing train headed her.

Sale of Light Harness Horses.

Lexington, Ky., March 11.—The first sale of light harness horses was consummated by the purchase of five head of youngsters, the get of Jay McGregor, by Connally & McLain, of Klingman county, Kan., from W. L. Spears, of this city. Price private.

The "Ripper" Bill Signed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 11.—Gov. Beckham has signed the bill known as the Louisville "ripper bill," giving the mayor of Louisville the authority to appoint and remove members of his executive boards.

A Big Deal in Tobacco.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 9.—The largest single tobacco sale ever made in this city was closed by J. N. Histic, for the Continental Co., purchasing the crop of the Hamilton Farm Co., about 250,000 pounds at 9 cents a pound.

Farmer Died From His Injuries.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 11.—Dink Stephens, a Trigg county farmer, died at his home near Caledonia. While driving into his stable on a load of baled hay he was caught between the top of the door and his wagon and his chest was crushed.

Fatal Saloon Row.

Washington, March 11.—Ed Garrett, a mulatto, was killed in a row here and George Woodhead is held in jail for the crime. The owner of the saloon, Jack Reddy, was shot by Garrett. Reddy's injuries are not fatal.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

Regular Session.

Washington, March 8.—Senate.—The Senate Monday passed the naval appropriation bill which has been before it for the past four or five days and then took up the army bill. The principal question debated in connection with the naval bill related to the price and method of supplying armor plate for battleships and it grew out of an amendment suggested by Mr. Patterson providing for a government armor plant. He ultimately withdrew the amendment but offered several others all of which were laid on the table.

House.—Postal affairs engrossed the attention of the house Monday, practically to the exclusion of all else. The subject was introduced by Mr. Overstreet, chairman of the committee on post offices and post roads, who submitted the report of that committee on the clay resolution calling for certain information regarding the use of influence by members of the house to secure increase in salary for postmasters. The matter was postponed until Wednesday. The post office appropriation bill was then taken up and Mr. Moon (dem., Tenn.), the ranking minority member of the post office committee, arraigned the present system employed in the post office department and made an appeal for general investigation of the affairs of the department. Without debate the house unanimously adopted the resolution. Mr. Martin (rep., S. D.) directing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the causes for the differences which exist between live cattle and dressed beef.

Washington, March 9.—Senate.—The senate spent almost the entire day discussing the committee amendments to the army bill concerning provisional troops in the Philippines and the consolidation of the adjutant general's office with the record and pension office. The Porto Rican amendment was objected to by democratic senators as tending to a more pronounced military form of government. Both amendments ultimately were accepted. The bill was amended so as to provide for an increase in the engineer corps. It was still pending when the senate adjourned.

House.—Tuesday in the house was given apart for consideration of claim bills. Thirty-two bills of this character were passed. One, relating to the granting of an American register to the ship Beaumont, gave rise to considerable debate. Mr. Stevens (Minn.) made the point that to admit such ships into registry would be detrimental to the interests of American workmen. He was seconded by Mr. Humphrey (Wash.). The friends of the bill, which was passed, were Messrs. Fordney, William A. Smith, McMurrin (Mich.), Thayer (Mass.) and Dunwell (N. Y.). Shortly after the house convened Speaker Cannon, in ruling on the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, stood by a former precedent, holding that conference could not insert new matter.

Washington, March 10.—Senate.—During consideration of the army appropriation bill in the senate Wednesday Mr. Bacon protested against the acceptance of the statue of Frederick the Great of Germany, tendered by Emperor William, on the ground that the former German king was not in sympathy with American institutions. Mr. Stewart defended Frederick against what he characterized as Mr. Bacon's gross misrepresentations. The army appropriation bill was passed. The senate also passed the Philippine shipping bill, after speeches in opposition by Messrs. Culberson and Patterson.

House.—That an investigation of the post office department by the house of representatives will result from the publication of the report involving members of congress in that connection was indicated by every expression possible short of a vote in that body Wednesday.

Washington, March 11.—Senate.—The senate Thursday passed a number of bills relating to Alaska but failed to act on the measure authorizing the election of a delegate in congress from that territory. Mr. Platt (Ct.) opposed the bill, and because of his opposition and his desire for time for discussion, it was not pressed. The Alaska bills passed included those for the improvement of roads, the maintenance of schools, the appointment of an additional judge and the extension of the coal laws to the territory. Several other bills were passed, including one increasing to $100 the pensions of ex-soldiers who have become totally blind on account of service. The death of Representative Croft, of South Carolina, was announced, a committee appointed to attend the funeral, and as a mark of respect the senate adjourned at 4:42.

House.—The death of Representative Croft, of South Carolina, was announced. A committee was appointed to attend the funeral, and out of respect to his memory the house adjourned.

Senator Tillman's Condition.

Washington, March 10.—Senator Tillman is confined to his room suffering from throat trouble. A thorough examination was made of the senator's throat Wednesday and disclosed the fact that an abscess had formed on the left tonsil. It is said to be a very small one and the physicians believe it can be relieved with out great difficulty. An operation was performed Thursday night.

Washington, March 11.—Senator Tillman's condition continues favorable Thursday night and he is resting easily. If the improvement continues as at present the family hope the senator may take his projected trip south in a few days.

Representative Croft Dies.

Washington, March 11.—As the result of blood poisoning, caused by a splinter in his hand, George William Croft, representative in congress from the Second district of South Carolina died at his boarding place Thursday morning.

Canal Commissioners' Salaries.

Washington, March 11.—President Roosevelt has fixed the salaries of the Isthmian canal commissioners at $12,000 per year and in addition thereto $15 per day while they are on the isthmus.

HORSE GOT HIS REVENGE.

By Pretending Friendship Tom Got a Good Nip at the Hand of the Man He Hated.

Tom, one of the team of horses used by the San Francisco (Cal.) police department for patrol wagon service, is a wise animal. Hour after hour every day he stands near the city hall awaiting a summons to rush to the aid of some person in need of medical attention or to bring to the prison some malefactor. His waits are tedious ones, for his idle time is spent in munching the cubes of sugar his driver and other attaches of the prison and hospital always have for him.

Some time ago he took particular delight in showing his dislike for a city hall janitor, who, whenever he passed the horse, hit him a resounding slap on the back. Tom tried time and again to kick his tormentor, but his harness prevented him. Then the janitor came to the stable and gave Tom a squeeze between his strong teeth that caused the janitor to yell with pain. Then Tom whinnied again, this time with a great display of pleasure.

The Stone Cutter's Blunder.

A small headstone in a cemetery in the western part of Pennsylvania is pointed out to visitors as one of the sights of the neighborhood. It was placed over the grave by a widow who, while not lacking in love for the departed one, was penurious to degree. She ordered a small stone because it was cheap, and told the mason to engrave on it this inscription: "Sarah Hackett. Aged 90 years. Lord, she was thin." The stonecutter said there was too much inscription for so small a surface, but was told to go ahead and "squeeze it on somehow." Here is the inscription as squeezed: "Sara Hackett. Aged 90. Lord, she was thin."

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grippe, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by S. E. Welch, Jr., Beres, Ky.

Farmer's National Bank

Richmond, Ky.

Capital and Surplus $180,000

We solicit your patronage.

JAMES BENNETT, Pres.

S. S. PARKES, Cashier

Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by East End Drug Co.

We proudly obtain U. S. and Foreign
PATENTS
Send model, sketch or photo of invention for examination as to patentability. For five fees, How to Secure Patents and TRADE-MARKS to GASNOW & CO.
Opposite U. S. Patent Office
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved," writes Mrs. W. Watkins, of Pleasant City, Ohio. Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by East End Drug Co., Beres, Ky. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles.

EARLY RISERS

THE FAMOUS LITTLE PILLS.

For quick relief from Biliousness, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Dizziness, and all troubles arising from an inactive or sluggish liver. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are used.

They act promptly and never gripes. They are so dainty that it is a pleasure to take them. One to two act as a mild laxative; two or four act as a pleasant and effective cathartic. They are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They tonic the liver.

YOU DEALER CAN SUPPLY YOU.
PREPARED BY
E. C. DEWITT & CO., CHICAGO

HAPPY, HEALTHY CHILDREN.

Any child can take Little Early Risers with perfect safety. They are harmless, never gripes or sickens, and yet they are so certain in results that robust constitutions requiring drastic means are never disappointed. They cannot fail to perform their mission, and everyone who uses DeWitt's Little Early Risers prefer them to all other pills. They cure biliousness. Sold by East End Drug Co.

Berea and Vicinity.

GATHERED FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES.

See our classified want columns leaving Newcomb in charge of Geo. Poff and L. A. Watkins. During Tatnum's absence, Newcomb broke away from his guards and ran. Five or six shots were fired after him, one of which it transpires took effect in Newcomb's shoulder. This wound led to his final capture. When arrested here Newcomb was very anxious to learn the cause of his arrest and vouchsafed the information that he knew nothing of the Danville murder though he had not been charged with the crime of killing Rucker. This and other incidents have led to the suspicion that Newcomb and his partner, Ansel Wilson, who was recently killed by an officer at Somerset, are responsible for the Danville crime.

Miss Grace Cornelius came home from Louisville Thursday for a short vacation before continuing her study of music in that city.

Mr. M. M. Broughton, magistrate at Brassfield, this county, was a Berea visitor on Saturday of last week. He was accompanied by his daughter, Bertha.

Bicknell & Early have added greatly to the neat and attractive appearance of their large stores by the rearrangement of their stock which they have recently made.

County Judge T. J. Coyle, of Jackson county, was in this city Saturday. He is residing temporarily at Berea until he can rebuild at Clover Bottom, Jackson county.—Richmond Pantograph.

Miss Sibyl M. Noble, of Williamsburg, is the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Branaman. Miss Noble has resigned her position as matron at Williamsburg Academy and goes Monday to her old home at Jamestown, N. Y.

Several new cases of small pox have developed in the family of Edward Anderson, who lives near the depot, but as yet the disease has not extended to any other family and with the precautions that are being taken it is not thought that it will.

The wreck of a freight train near Hazel Patch, six miles south of Livingston, on the K. D. division of the L. & N. railway, delayed traffic for ten or twelve hours Tuesday. Morning passenger trains transferred their passengers and baggage around the wreck.

Mr. C. M. Mullins and Mr. B. F. Goforth, both formerly of Valley View, have become residents of Berea, and during the past week have opened up a new grocery here two doors north of the printing-office. The style of the firm is Mullins and Goforth, and as they have an entirely new stock of goods well displayed and well selected, they will draw their share of the trade.

Mr. Wayne Wilson, who for some time has been in the employ of the Berea Banking Company here, spent a few days this week at his home in Louisville. Yesterday he went to Henryville, Ind., to take the position of Cashier in the new Henryville Bank, which will be opened there today. W. H. Porter also left yesterday for Henryville, where he will spend a week superintending the opening of the bank, and assisting Mr. Wilson to give it a good start.

The musicals given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Union church at the Parish House last Saturday night furnished those present with one of the most delightful entertainments of the year. The vocal numbers included solos by Mr. Wells, duets by Miss Putnam and Mr. Wells and Misses Jones and Osborne. Bristol Taylor sang the Swapping Song, accompanying himself on the dulcimer. Besides these the children who took part gave additional interest, Burley Lanehart, singing a solo, and Della and Lucy Holliday, a duet. The instrumental numbers consisted of a piano solo by Miss Loser, violin solo by Mr. Louis Hinman and cornet duet by Messrs. Simpson and Wheeler. Readings were given by Mr. Wheeler and Miss Shultz. Each participant deserves special mention, but suffice it to say that every number was well rendered.

Wm. Newcomb, an account of whose capture at Mt. Vernon appears in our first column, turns out to be the same man who was arrested here Saturday night, March 5, by Marshal Tatum. After the arrest Tatum went into the depot to send a message

THE BAND CONCERT.

Can you afford to miss the rare musical treat on Tuesday, March 22? On that night the Berea College Band will present the program which they now for some months have had in preparation.

Those who have had a chance to hear the Band this year know the great progress made under the second year of director Simpson's management. The Band's ability to play first-class music in a first-class manner will be thoroughly demonstrated next Tuesday night. Besides the regular numbers by the Band, the Symphony orchestra will render two selections which we predict will be all the rage within twenty-four hours after the concert.

The Band's special soloists upon the troubone, cornet, violin, piano, etc., are sure to receive large ovations, (and they all have encores.) So we say again you can afford to miss such a brilliant program when the price of admission is but 15 cents?

College Items

HERE AND THERE

Hay is getting scarce, and for the first time instead of buying hay the College Farm has hay to sell.

The College Farm Department has a quantity of the Buckeye Fertilizer which has done such wonders for the College fields which it can dispose of to farmers who apply soon to Prof. Masou.

Edward E. Flanery, a student here 1897 to 1900, enroute from Frankfort to his home in Owsley county, stopped off here a few days this week to visit relatives and incidentally to revisit the school. He had been to the capitol city on a visit to his parents, who now reside there.

ALPHA ZETA ANNUAL BANQUET

On Friday evening, March 12, occurred the annual banquet of A. Z. members and guests. No previous year has equalled the success of this. The Parish House furnished an ideal place for the nine commodious tables set for ninety-eight persons. The guests of the evening entered the banquet hall to the strains of music from the orchestra.

The several courses of good things finished all were in that peaceful frame of mind conducive to one's best expression of thought. Miss Robinson, Profs. Dinsmore and Dodge for the guests, and C. Hinman, Townsend and Barton for the society fairly sparkled with wit and pleasing language. Howard Ernst was toastsmaster. The profuse room decorations of society banners and colors, the sparkle of the tables under the shaded lamps, the animated assembly—all made a pleasing picture to the looker from the gallery. We safely assert that this occasion raises to the dignity of being the social function of the year.

No one with 15 cents will be kept out of the Tabernacle on March 22, the Grand Band Concert night.

If its a billious attack, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick recovery is certain. For sale by S. E. Welch, Jr.

RULE OF THE WORST

Berea College, Like Many Other Great Public Interests, Outraged by the Legislature Just Adjourned.

Kentucky must have reached that dark hour which is said to come just before the dawn.

The legislature just adjourned has been a plague and a disgrace to the Commonwealth not because it was Democratic by an overwhelming majority, but because it was controlled by the worst elements of the Democratic party. Democrats who have regard for the principles of their party in its best days have suitably characterized the spirit and action of the element now in control. The erection of a new judicial district for sake of enthroning the famous Judge Hargis of Breathitt county, the violation of the constitution in the districting of the State and in the making of the new county of Beckham, and the prostitution of the school fund for political purposes, are examples of the absolutely unprincipled course of the reckless majority. Elected as this legislature was no other kind of action was to be expected.

Yet it seemed till the very last that the proposed action against Berea would be defeated by the quiet men who were trying to save what they could of the public interests from the wreckage of the faction in power. The argument before the Senate Committee we print in full this week. President Frost was buttonholed by more than one senator, who came to him a perfect stranger to say that he abhorred the bill, and yet felt that it could not be defeated if it came to a vote, and should vote for it for the simple reason that if he failed to do so he would be stigmatized as a friend of the "Nigger," and blundered in all his future political aspirations.

Major Curtis F. Burnam gave what was acknowledged by all to be the greatest speech of the session when he spoke in opposition to the bill. The presiding officer of the Senate, Thorpe, who was almost abusive in his advocacy of the bill, said he would rather be able to make a speech like Major Burnam's than to be Lieutenant Governor. But constitutional arguments, and appeals to conscience or the principles of democracy have no effect upon the votes of certain kinds of men.

The bill passed in its crude and ruthless form, amendments being defeated for fear that a delay might prevent its passage altogether.

The College will continue faithful to its principles, and God will not allow it to be permanently injured because of its regard for the poor and the despised. All young people, who are looking to Berea for education and help, may be assured that they will be fully provided for. The Trustees meet to consider the situation on the thirtieth of this month.

The Home

JENNIE LESTER HILL, Editor

The Cat School

Young Tab will be a soldier,
From April 1st to December 1st.
Then it's time to let the cat's out
To learn to read and spell.

It's big by Mrs. Scratches,
A cat of mighty brain,
Who teaches them their lessons
Well aided by her cone.

Beneath her sage tutition
In course of time you'll see
The malapose, if he studies
A clergyman will be.

TO LEARN TO READ AND SPELL

Young Tab will be a soldier,
A captain bold and true,
And Jack will be a lawyer,
And make a good judge too.

The teacher's kind and gentle,
Although severe she looks;
She makes them pay attention
And stick well to their books.

—Detroit Journal.

The School

JOHN WIRT DINSMORE, Editor

Give the Children a Chance

PRICE LETTER TO THE TRADESMAN FARMER

Sir: Do we not owe to our children the best supply of capital toward life's struggle which is within our power to give them? A good education is better than money, and is something they can never be robbed of. When once gained it forms a solid foundation upon which they can build, and thus fit themselves for almost any position in life.

Teach the children to enjoy good books, and keep trashy ones out of the house. Teach them to enjoy and study the beauties of nature. Why take them from school at fourteen or fifteen years of age? They are just beginning.

Let each child follow its own bent as much as possible. If you have six children, don't expect all six to have the same tastes and talents. If at four a child shows a taste for one particular branch of study, encourage this, help him to concentrate thought and ambition on this one point, to learn all he can on this subject that he may become master of it. If to reach this point we are deprived of the child's services about the home, remember that we are helping him or her to build the foundation for a high position (and good pay). If the taste runs to farming, be it boy or girl, push that inclination. Direct the studies in that line, help the child to become expert in that branch, and how much better fitted he or she will be to take charge of home affairs or to superintend the farm of some one else, at a high salary. Is that not better than to plod along, just able to read and write, content to do this, with no ambition, no hope and probably no money, but instead a dull and listless face and mind to pass down to posterity?

MARY A. WHALEN
Spring Valley, N. Y.

The Farm

SILAS CHEEVER MASON, Editor

FEEDING EXPERIMENTS.

VETCH, COPEWAN AND SOY BEAN HAY AS SUBSTITUTES FOR WHEAT BRAN.

Feeding experiments to ascertain whether hay made from hairy vetch, cowpeas and soy beans could be advantageously substituted for most of the wheat bran in the ration of dairy cows fed the Alabama experiment station to conclusions of which the following is a summary:

The following values per ton were used in calculating the cost of food:

Wheat bran, $20; vetch hay, $10; cowpea hay, $10; cotton seed, $12; cotton seed meal, $20; cottonseed hulls, $5.

Vetch hay has proved fully equal in feeding value to a similar weight of wheat bran. By this substitution the cost of the food required to make a pound of butter was reduced 25 per cent.

With the vetch ration the cost of food for a pound of butter averaged 10 cents in contrast with 13.4 cents when wheat bran was fed.

The waste in feeding vetch hay was with most cows about 6 per cent of the amount offered and with cowpea hay about 16 per cent. The latter residue, being useless, is charged as a part of the ration.

That portion of the cowpea hay actually eaten proved fully equal in feeding value to a similar weight of wheat bran. Charging cows with all the cowpea hay offered them, we found that cowpea hay had 86 per cent of the feeding value of wheat bran, a ton of this being equal to 1,720 pounds of wheat bran.

When wheat bran was worth $20 per ton cowpea hay was worth $17.20 and vetch hay $20.

The monthly profits per cow were $4.65 on the vetch ration and $4.35 on the cowpea ration.

One of the Jersey cows used in this test produced butter at a cost for food of only 8.1-3 cents per pound when fed on the vetch ration.

Running cowpea hay through a feed cutter did not decrease the waste in feeding this food.

Four and a half per cent more butter was produced with soy bean hay than with cowpea hay if we take account of the portion of each actually eaten. However, a larger proportion of the coarse stems of the soy bean hay was left uneaten.

When corn hearts were substituted for wheat bran, the yield of butter was increased by 8 per cent.

$1,000,000 Worth of Cotton Per Day.

The total value of the cotton exported during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1903, was $316,180,423, and if the value of all products of cotton exported be added thereto the figures are raised to $376,758,048, or an average of more than $1,000,000 per day during the entire year.—Crop Reporter.

FARMERS.

We want live, fat Poultry, Eggs, Hides, and Feathers. We pay highest cash prices. We pay 40c per doz. for Goose Eggs.

C. F. GOTTL & CO.

Successors to Berea Produce Company.

Depot Street Berea, Ky.

Prices Right! Groceries Fresh!

We carry a full line of groceries

We never overstock, so always have a fresh line

Fruits and Vegetables always on hand.

See our fine line of Candies.

We Deliver Any Time During the Day

PHONE 233. PRESTON'S MAIN ST., BEREAL.

THE CITIZEN'S CLASSIFIED "AD." COLUMN

FOUNTAIN PEN—twenty cents each and upward. Pens are gold with diamond tip, sent by mail postpaid. N. F. Ambrose, Conkling, Ky.

HOMESPUN—coverlets, linens, quilt patterns, etc. I. B. Ambrose, Conkling, Ky.

WHO WANTS BIG CROPS? The College Farm Department (Prof. Mason) can spare a quantity of the Buckeye Fertilizer which made such tall good corn and other crops the past season. For price, etc., apply soon.

SEVERAL TONS of good baled hay and straw. W. B. Jones, Paint Lick, Ky.

Inflammatory Rheumatism was Cured

William Shaffer, a brakeman, of Deunison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by S. E. Welch, Jr.

FOR SALE

HOUSE AND LOT on Big Hill street, Berea. Call or address W. L. Flanery, Berea, Ky.

SEVEN GOOD JACKS or will exchange for cattle or mules. J. W. Herndon, Whites Station, Ky.

FIRST CLASS BUILDING BRICK constantly on hand. We also have hard burned brick and bats for curtains at very low price. Berea College Brick yard.

The following values per ton were used in calculating the cost of food:

Wheat bran, $20; vetch hay, $10; cowpea hay, $10; cotton seed, $12; cotton seed meal, $20; cottonseed hulls, $5.

Vetch hay has proved fully equal in feeding value to a similar weight of wheat bran. Charging cows with all the vetch hay offered them, we found that vetch hay had 86 per cent of the feeding value of wheat bran, a ton of this being equal to 1,720 pounds of wheat bran.

When wheat bran was worth $20 per ton cowpea hay was worth $17.20 and vetch hay $20.

The monthly profits per cow were $4.65 on the vetch ration and $4.35 on the cowpea ration.

One of the Jersey cows used in this test produced butter at a cost for food of only 8.1-3 cents per pound when fed on the vetch ration.

Running cowpea hay through a feed

RUTS

The walking sick, what a crowd of them there are; Persons who are thin and weak but not sick enough to go to bed.

"Chronic cases" that's what the doctors call them, which in common English means—long sickness.

To stop the continued loss of flesh they need Scott's Emulsion. For the feeling of weakness they need Scott's Emulsion.

It makes new flesh and gives new life to the weak system.

Scott's Emulsion gets thin and weak persons out of the rut. It makes new, rich blood, strengthens the nerves and gives appetite for ordinary food.

Scott's Emulsion can be taken as long as sickness lasts and do good all the time.

There's new strength and flesh in every dose.

We will be glad to send you a few doses free.

Be sure that this picture in the corner of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE
Chemists,
409 Pearl St., N. Y. and 212 W. 23rd St.

A Good Thing

Is to get just what you ask for in the drugstore; so insist on having Paracamp for Catarrh or Cold in the Head. Paracamp contains no cocaine as many so-called Catarrh remedies do, but it relieves you instantly by soothing the inflamed parts and destroying the germs which cause the trouble. So don't suffer. Try it today. Every bottle guaranteed by S. E. Welch, Jr., Druggist.

EDITOR'S COLUMN.

Bargains.

The following bargains are for either old or new subscribers to THE CITIZEN. If your subscription is paid up you will be given credit for one year from its present expiration date, whatever it is.

Bargain No. One.

Reg.	Price.
Citizen.....	$1.00
Toledo Blade.....	1.00

Our Bargain Price $1.25.

Bargain No. Two.

Citizen.....	$1.00
Union Gospel News.....	.50
"Driven Back to Eden".....	1.25

$2.75

Our Bargain Price $1.60.

Driven Back to Eden is a charming story of several hundred pages by the famous author, E. P. Roe, and is beautifully bound in cloth.

Bargain No. Three.

Cincinnati Post (Daily except Sunday).....	$3.00
Citizen (Weekly).....	1.00

$4.00

Our Bargain Price $2.50.

Bargain No. Four.

Citizen (Weekly).....	$1.00
American Farmer (Monthly).....	.50

$1.50

Our Bargain Price $1.15.

With any one of the four bargains above you can make four free guesses (with any two, 8 guesses, and so on) in our World's Fair contest described on page 3. In writing, please use the following coupon.

Address James M. Racer,
Berea, Ky.

CUT OUT, FILL IN AND MAIL TODAY.

COUPON.

I enclose $... for Bargain No. .

Name

Postoffice.....

State.....

My guesses in the World's Fair contest are:

Before Senate Committee.

(Continued from page 1.)

ence of opinion as to just how far the races should be kept apart. Some good people think the Negro should be sent back to Africa—an ocean is not too wide a separation. My friend, John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, thinks the races should be separated by State lines—that the colored people should be set off in certain territories all by themselves. Not many of us go so far as that. It is a question of degree and judgment. There are scarcely any two Southern cities where the limitations are exactly the same.

First of all Berea favors a separation of the races in the public schools of Kentucky. It is not a law of nature that the races should be separated. In Ohio it is probably better that they should be united. But for Kentucky this is the best arrangement, and this was put into a law by men who were good friends of Berea. But what is good for public schools, where all attend without any particular siftings as to moral character, may not be best in every private school. We all agree that there should be friendly relations and a good understanding, founded on mutual respect, between the races. Such understanding now largely rests upon acquaintance based upon the former relation of master and slave. As time goes on such acquaintance lapses and the Negroes get really less contact with the better element of the white race than in the days of slavery. So it has seemed to us a good thing that selected individuals, teachers for the most part and the children of teachers, should have the instruction of white men and women, and measure themselves in the classroom with white students. It has also seemed good that our white students should take an interest in the progress of their colored neighbors, and really meet in official relations at school some of the better representatives of that race. Certainly if the two races are to live side by side, and co-operate for the general welfare, some training is desirable on the part of some leaders in the art of getting along with mutual respect and good feeling.

Certainly much depends upon the spirit and regulations of a school where this is done. You have been informed of the devotion and missionary spirit in which Berea was founded. As for our regulations each race has always had its own social life. We have always been too poor to provide shelter for all our students, and the majority find homes with selected families in the village. There is less intimacy between the races in Berea than in many other Kentucky towns, but there is more respect, because our selected colored students are more respectable than the average of their race. We have not always known or followed the etiquette of caste, but our arrangements have been such as to prevent any tendency toward intermarriage or moral contamination. Those who advocate this bill say that their men desire to keep the races pure. Gentlemen, that is certainly one of the main desires of Berea College. We may differ as to how this is to be done, but we can shake hands in friendship because we desire the same result.

I am acquainted with the old abolitionists, as they were called, and with their children throughout the country, and I can say to you that I do not know half a dozen persons in the United States who have expected, desired, or admitted as possible a mingling of the races. If there should be a tendency toward race contamination in Berea it would require no act of the Legislature to stop it—we should attend to it effectually ourselves. We believe that today there is less race contamination in the sphere of Berea's influence than anywhere else in the State, and we will give you some evidence. The Berea way of preventing the mingling of the races is not by repressing the Negro, and calling him a humiliating name—that may do for a slave, but it is not the method with a freedman—but we put such character and self-respect into the Negro that he keeps himself in order.

Here are two bits of evidence of the most interesting and unanswerable character. The first is a letter from the Hon. John D. Goodloe, a former member of this Senate. He says, "I am, as you well know, thoroughly Southern in my tastes and opinions, and in politics a life-long Democrat of the most thorough-going kind. I have lived within five miles of Berea for more than twenty years, and had the amplest opportunity of personally knowing the prominent men connected with that institution, and of observing its work. I have uniformly been struck with their piety, culture, and devotion to the education and uplifting of the classes least able to help themselves. It was impossible not to note their cleanliness of character, and purity of motive, and the wonderful amount of good they were doing, not only in placing a splendid education in the reach of thousands who otherwise could not have attained it, but also in the great religious, moral, and law-abiding influences, which emanate from that center. Indeed I am quite sure that in freedom from scandal Berea College will compare favorably with any other college in the land."

And in the second place let me quote one of our colored students.

An assembly of about fifty persons in favor of this bill was held in Richmond, and at its end a colored man named Jas. White, asked permission to speak, and is thus reported by the stenographer.

"I was educated at Berea as far as the sophomore year.

I had an opportunity to meet white young men in class, but I never got the idea that I ranked with them socially. That is not what the colored man wants. But this is the advantage I got at Berea—I learned how to approach a white man and do business with him. I learned my business manners at Berea."

And as a third bit of evidence here is a testimonial and remonstrance, signed by four-fifths of the white voters of Berea, and by some hundreds of other voters and property holders near us, which testifies to Berea's "eminent success not only in guarding against any improprieties and misconduct, but also in instilling into the pupils the principles of honor and the spirit of true religion."

Gentlemen, a tree is known by its fruits. Berea must be judged, it is willing to be judged, as to this matter of race, by the character of its colored students. If they are immoral or impudent then we agree that Berea ought to be radically changed. But if we have trained for you a class of colored men on whom you depend very largely for the guidance of that race to day, then it must be that Berea deserves your approval. We have not succeeded according to our desires, but we have certainly succeeded to some extent. Kentucky has been glad to take every colored student we could even partially train and set them up as models and leaders for the freedmen. Facts must speak. We are doing according to our means and ability something toward making the colored population more virtuous, efficient, law abiding, respectful and self-respecting—exactly the thing which the best people of this State desire to have done.

Now on the other hand, can it be shown that our white students have been in any way injured, any more than the numberless Kentuckians who have met colored classmate in John Hopkins' and the other great schools of the world.

This bill was recommended by the Educational Committee of the House under the false accusation that Berea was already violating the laws of the State, and had simply been allowed to run on because no penalty had been specified. The same claim was made before the House of Representatives at the time this bill was passed. The honorable members of this Committee and of the Senate are now fully aware that this charge was untrue. A slight attention to the laws of our Commonwealth shows that where they forbid the attendance of white and colored at the same school they refer solely and only to the schools supported by State funds. With regard to private institutions, however, it is certainly very questionable whether the Commonwealth has the right to interfere in the internal management. To say that I may not teach a white and a colored boy at the same time may well be considered an invasion of personal liberty. Berea's cause, therefore, in this matter is the cause of academic freedom in the whole land. But above all technicalities of the law I present to you the moral wrong which it would be for Kentucky—even if she had the power—after allowing donors and friends in good faith for a period of nearly fifty years to invest not only large funds but large efforts, involving years of life, in this institution, now to allow it to be hampered by crippling legislation.

Moreover, it should certainly be a motive with the legislators to do all that can be done towards effacing rather than intensifying sectional lines. The Northern States have adopted as a general policy the education of white and colored in the same schools. The South has adopted—as it had reason and right to do—the contrary policy. Well and good,

The Name Witch Hazel.

The name Witch Hazel is much abused. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, are the inventors of the original and only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. A certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Eczema, Tetter, Piles, etc. There are many counterfeits of this salve, some of which are dangerous, while they are all worthless. In buying Witch Hazel Salve see that the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, is on the box and a cure is certain. Sold by the East End Drug Co.

A NEW CARLOAD!

THE FARM WAGON is built for service rather than for style. You want it to be strong, durable, and light running. Those are the points we considered in purchasing the line we handle—the famous

WEBER WAGONS.

They combine all these qualities in the highest degree. We can back them with our reputation. Come in and get our prices. They will persuade you to buy.

Bicknell & Early, Berea, Ky.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT WELCH'S

Wisdom means good judgment. Good judgment means success when you apply your wisdom to business problems; that is why it pays to trade where goods are bought right and sold right, and you always get a square deal.

Granulated Sugar,	4 1/4 c
Obelisk Flour	75c
Elephant Corn	10c
3 lb. Tomatoes 2 for	15c
3 bars of Lenox or Clairette soap	10c
4 lbs. Package Gold dust	15c
Potatoes, per bu.,	1.10
One gallon bucket syrup.	25c

Stock all the way through in proportion this is why it looks like everybody trades at WELCH'S.

Easter Flowers in Profusion

We can fill your orders for

ROSES, EASTER LILIES, VIOLETS AND CARNATIONS.

Richmond Greenhouses, Albert Reichspfarr, Prop.

Richmond, Kentucky

This space has been purchased by

The Students Job Print
Printers of The Citizen.

What would make a better investment than one of our

Self-pronouncing

Teacher's Bibles

Advertised on page 7

Regular $2.50 and 3.00 values.

Order early.

J. J. Brannaman

Well-selected stock of

Groceries, Dry Goods and Notions,
Men's and Women's Shoes and Rubbers.
Prices right. Agent for Naven Laundry.